

TRAVEL AER LINGUS TO IRELAND & EUROPE

Aer Lingus, as Ireland's flag carrier, has been connecting Boston to Ireland since October 1958, when the first non-stop flight went from Boston Logan International Airport to Dublin International Airport.

More than six decades later, Aer Lingus remains the perfect airline to take you back to Ireland, and with seamless connections to many of the great cities, it is also the perfect way to travel to Europe.

With direct flights from Boston to Dublin, visitors can experience the best that Ireland has to offer in its capital city, where you'll find rich history, unrivalled Irish hospitality, amazing food and drink, including Guinness and Irish whiskey.

With direct flights from Boston to Shannon, visitors can explore the Wild Atlantic Way as it celebrates its 10th anniversary in 2024. This heralded trail consists of more than 1,500 miles of spectacular coastline with white sands and glittering waves, allowing you to stop on 180 spots along the coast where the views are breathtaking and where local stories are told.

After discovering all that Ireland has to offer, visitors will be excited to know that many of Europe's top destinations are just a short flight away via Aer Lingus' Dublin hub, with flights to Paris, London, Rome, Edinburgh and other iconic places.

Aer Lingus offers three daily, non-stop flights to Ireland from Boston's Logan Airport in summer 2024 and is ready to fly visitors on their next adventure.

In 2024, Aer Lingus is operating 19 non-stop routes from North America to Ireland, including daily flights from Hartford, Connecticut, the restart of Minneapolis-St. Paul to Dublin route, starting on April 29 and direct flights from Denver, Colorado to Dublin for the first time, starting on May 17.

FLYING WITH AER LINGUS

The warm Irish welcome characteristic of Aer Lingus happens the moment visitors step on board. Its modern fleet of aircraft offer both Business and Economy class cabins, and all customers travelling Economy with Aer Lingus receive complimentary meals and soft drinks. All long haul aircraft are Wi-Fi enabled and offer endless hours of in-flight entertainment, TV box sets, games and music. An in-flight app is also available for customers to connect their device to the seatback and control in flight entertainment options from their own device. The Press-Reader app offers customers access to over 7,000 digital newspapers & magazines.

SAVE TIME WITH U.S. PRE-CLEARANCE

When flying transatlantic with Aer Lingus, visitors also benefit from U.S. Customs and Border pre-clearance at both Dublin and Shannon airports. This means that passengers flying back to the U.S. are cleared for U.S. immigration and full U.S. customs and agriculture controls. Once visitors return stateside, they can simply pick up their bags and go!
